Realtors® Sponsor Local School Competition

As part of its ongoing community service initiatives, the Suburban West Realtors® Association is proud to continue its long and fruitful partnership with local schools. The Association recently sponsored an event that promotes academic excellence on the Main Line: the interscholastic It's Mathematical Competition.

The It's Mathematical Competition presents academically gifted students from Conestoga, Lower Merion, Marple-Newtown and Radnor school districts and Delaware County Christian School an opportunity to compete six times a year in a college-bowl style tournament. The tournament culminates in the presentation of trophies sponsored by the Suburban West Realtors® Association. The 2014-2015 finals were held April 9th at Marple-Newtown High School with Conestoga finishing in first place. Lower Merion placed second in the competition while Radnor finished in third place. Member volunteer Stephen D'Antonio, a Board of Director member with Suburban West Realtors Association and a Realtor® with the Media office of Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Fox & Roach Realtors®, represented the Association at the event and presented the trophies to the participants.

The Suburban West Realtors® Association is the largest local Realtor® organization in Pennsylvania. The Association is committed to enhancing professionalism amongst the real estate profession; ensuring that its members conduct business with integrity and provide superior service to the public.
